

The Owingsville Outlook.

VOL. XIX.

OWINGSVILLE, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JUNE 2, 1898.

NO. 46.

Tobacco Hoes all sizes and prices at Jno. A. Ramsey & Co's.

Strawberries are plentiful and cheap.

Celebrated Tiger Hay Rake. Full line.

The apple crop will be a very light one.

The only real bargains to be found in Owingsville are at Mrs. Estill's.

The prospect for a good black-berry crop is promising.

Have you seen the Walter A. Wood Tubular Steel Mower? It is a daisy.

Decorated Day (Monday) was observed here privately only.

A full line of Walter A. Wood Tubular Steel Mowers. All sizes at Jno. A. Ramsey & Co's.

Springs chickens are ripe and can be plucked off the vine accordingly.

You can rely on everything that you buy from Mrs. Estill being the latest style.

Cherries are getting ripe, and cherry cobbler will soon be in evidence.

The "genuine Brown" is at the head of the Double Shovel Plow family. Try one.

Garden vegetation is growing nicely, and all whose digestion is good will soon begin to fat up.

Price a Walter A. Wood Tubular Steel Mower at Ramsey & Co's before you buy.

A party of the town's good musicians were out delighting the folks with serenades Saturday night.

If you need a mower buy only the best—the Tubular Steel Mower. For sale by Ramsey & Co.

Unclaimed letters remaining in the Postoffice at Owingsville, Ky., May 31, 1898: W. Taylor, Mrs. A. L. Borders, Miss Ellen Warn.

Until further notice we will sell all kinds bottled beer at 10c per bottle.

The closing exercises of the Sharpshooting Academy will be held in the Presbyterian Church, this town, the nights of June 24 and 25.

Brown Double Shovel plows and five-tooth Cultivators are the best.

Mrs. Dora Cook moved Monday from Salt Lick into a part of the house on Main street occupied by Mrs. Josephine Moores.

Do not forget that Mrs. Estill will sell you the prettiest hat for less money than any one in town.

Ex-Deputy Sheriff Geo. T. Young has collected and paid over to the County Judge $200.00 of the delinquent tax list put into his hands for collection. George is a business hustler.

Leave your order with Ramsey & Co. up-to-date MOWER, BEARING TUBULAR STEEL MOWER, for mowers with cast wheels and parts are "back numbers."

The Louisville Twice-a-week Courier-Journal will for a while be reduced to fifty cents a year. Clubbed with THE OUTLOOK $1.30 per year for both, strictly cash in advance.

Have you seen those new Woolen Dress Goods at Mrs. Estill's? They are beautiful and the latest thing out.

The growing wheat crop is doing splendidly. The heads are of good length, promising a big yield. The farmers are overhauling their harvesting implements preparatory to gathering the golden grain.

I will sell you goods cheaper than anyone and give you a nice Gingham or Calico dress for every $5 cash purchase. Mrs. ESTILL.

Frank Purvis put a fish-box in Licking river at the mouth of upper Indian Creek last fall. He took it out for the first time last Monday and found in it two catfish weighing together 105 pounds. One fish was dead and spoiled.

The Walter A. Wood Tubular Steel Mower pulls with less weight on necks of team than any other mower on the market. It will cut without the tongue.

The rain Sunday night made a fair tobacco season, which the farmers utilized by setting tobacco plants. Some of them finished transplanting, while all got more or less set. The acreage will be large this year. He unharnessed it during the other seasons mostly dead and all growing nicely.

T. S. Shout is the only undertaker in the town doing business who has his Diploma for Embalming the Dead. Satisfaction guaranteed or no charge.

As Robert Busby, the Hillboro mail-wagon driver, was coming to town Tuesday one of his horses took sick near Sam Latham's, north of town. He unharnessed it and sent to Mr. Latham for assistance. When he returned the horse was dead. He put the mail sack on the other horse and came on to town.

All the new and desirable styles in Millinery at about 25 per cent less than you can buy elsewhere.

Mrs. D. S. ESTILL.

Buggy Dusters are not expensive this season. We have a full line bought direct from manufacturers at fair prices.

JOHN A. RAMSEY & Co.

The physicians of Owingsville requested Dr. L. H. Laudman, of Cincinnati, to visit Owingsville again soon, as they were not aware of his being in the city May 20th until his arrival and could not arrange for him to see all the eye cases they wanted him to attend.

He will be at the Conner Hotel on Friday and Saturday, June 10th and 11th. Glasses will be adjusted at popular prices. No extra charge for examination of eyes. City references, the practicing physicians.

Our stock of Saddles, Harness, Buggy Dusters, Whips, etc., etc., is full and we invite your inspection.

JOHN A. RAMSEY & Co.

JOSEPH SULADIE'S DEATH.—Joseph Suladie died of pneumonia at his home, on the headwaters of Salt Well Branch, at 6 o'clock Saturday morning, May 28th. The interment took place Sunday at the Traylor burial ground, four miles west of Mt. Sterling.

Deceased was aged 70 years. He was one of the few persons in this section of pure French extraction. He was a good, substantial farmer, citizen and his death is deeply lamented in his neighborhood and elsewhere as that of a worthy and useful man. His sons John and Wm. Litter and daughters Mrs. James Kincaid, Mrs. Dee Tipton and Mrs. Ellis Turley, all of this county, survive.

We offer you the best Saddle and Harness we can have made, at fair prices. Come and examine our stock.

JOHN A. RAMSEY & Co.

YOUNG FOLKS' SOCIAL.—Miss Julie Elliott gave a party to her young friends at the home of her mother, State Avenue, Friday night.

Playing, dancing and music were the guests did good to their hostess. The young Misses present were Emily Brother, Mary Gudge, Lorena Perry, Sallie Faris, Nina Hazelrigg, Amanda Thompson, Myrtle Donaldson, May Kincaid, Lillian Gudge, May Shout, Lottie Atchison, Lillian Daugherty, Alice Miller, Edna Peters. The young gentlemen were Harry Miller, Sherman Goodpastor, Scott Goodpastor, Duke Hampton, Frank Young, Charles Brother, Ellis Byron, Joe Conner, Wallace Gudge, Will R. Hazelrigg, Marion and Rollie McIntyre.

JAMES G. LANE'S DEATH.—A dispatch here Tuesday morning announced the death in Mt. Sterling of James G. Lane. He was formerly of this county, but had been living in Mt. Sterling for a number of years. His illness was Bright's disease of the kidneys. His age was 74 years. Interment Wednesday, June 1, at 2 o'clock p. m., in Crown Hill Cemetery, Sharpburg. His wife, who was a daughter of the late Caleb Ratliff, and a big family of children survive. His children that live in this county are R. H., of Stepstone; A. H., of Sharpburg; James W. and Mrs. Ed Gregory, of Bethel, and Horace, of this town. Mr. Lane was one of the most prominent citizens of this section and was universally esteemed as a good man, staunch and true friend, a devoted and affectionate husband and father. He was largely connected by blood and marriage with Bath county people and had innumerable friends here. The OUTLOOK extends to his bereaved family its sincere condolences in their sorrow.

T. S. Shout has on hands a complete line of new Buggies and Phaetons which he will trade you for an old one or for a horse or mule. Prices very low for new buggies for cash or trade.

Tobacco Crop.—Reports from all the Burley and Dark tobacco sections indicate that despite unfavorable conditions earlier in the season the bulk of the crop has nearly everywhere been set earlier than is usual, and in most cases, under auspicious circumstances. The general report is that there is an abundance of plants, and in many sections enough to set far more than the intended acreage.

Reports from Burley sections are very encouraging. Probably from 50 to 80 per cent. of the entire crop has been set and is starting out well. The Blue Grass counties are somewhat more advanced than the others, but it is believed that rains elsewhere are close of the week have helped to even up matters.

In some parts of the Dark district prospects were very gloomy up to a week or ten days ago, but the late favorable seasons have enabled the crop to be set out rapidly. Complaints of unusual damage from grasshoppers and cut worms come from several counties of the Clarksville and Hopkinsville districts, but it is hoped that they are overestimated.

As was noted in our last issue, there is reason to believe that the acreage will not be so large as was at one time contemplated. A full crop will doubtless be planted, at least in the Burley counties, but hardly an excessive one.

Those farmers who will see their crop auspiciously pitched by the first of June are to be congratulated, as it will mean that the first step toward an early and profitable crop has been accomplished.—Cincinnati Western Tobacco Journal.

Ladies, you can go to Mrs. Estill's and get a complete outfit from a kerchief to an elegant dress and hat. She keeps everything that ladies wear.

Col. Robert Stoner, of Bourbon county, was stricken with paralysis last week, the third attack since he recently married Miss Ida Hamilton, of Montgomery Co., stepdaughter of Gen. John S. Williams.

We are prepared to furnish anything in Saddles, Harness, Whips, Blankets, Lap Dusters, Spurs, Bits, etc., and extra parts for Harness at living prices.

JOHN A. RAMSEY & Co.

THE KENTUCKY CHAUTAUQUA.—The Eleventh Annual Session of the Kentucky Chautauqua will be held in Woodland Park, Lexington, Ky., June 28th to July 9th, inclusive. The whole is under the charge of the well-known Chautauqua manager, Dr. W. L. Davidson, who has been so successful in the conduct of this assembly for the last six years. No expense has this year been spared in the preparation of the program, which is as strong and brilliant as will be offered by any Chautauqua in America. You can here, at insignificant cost, secure an outing and rest, enjoyment and instruction. There will be class work along the lines of Normal, Education, Physical Training, Temperance, Children's Missionary, Woman's Clubs, and Public School Teachers' work.

The music, which is of the highest order, will include Saxton's famous band in two concerts daily; the Schubert Glee Club and Male Quartet; the Indiana State University Glee Club, seventeen jolly college boys; Madam Cecilia Eppinghouse Bailey, the great dramatic soprano, and Miss Sybil Sammis, who has toured the country as the soloist of the celebrated Chicago Marine Band; Prof. A. E. Aldrich and his famous choir.

On the lecture platform will appear such well known names as Bishop John H. Vincent, President E. Benj. Andrews, Alex. Black in his famous picture plays; Philip F. Matzinger in crayon lectures; Jahu DeWitt Miller, Lee Fairchild, the "Atemus Ward" of the present time; biographical studies, Prof. H. V. Richards in scientific lectures illustrated by experiments; Chas. Montaville Flowers in superb impersonations; dialect readings by Will B. Gane and Miss Georgia Ray McMillan; Dr. M. M. Parkhurst, Mrs. W. F. Crafts, Mrs. Clara Hoffman, Mrs. A. R. Bourne, Col. George W. Bain, Miss Elizabeth Shelby Kincaid, will also be heard with great delight.

On July 2d there will be a monster Children's Parade and Flag Drill with the presentation of "Old Glory" to the Chautauqua, when Governor Bradley is expected to give the address.

The Fourth of July will be a great day with the unique Sam P. Jones as one of the orators. Some great statesman will also be procured whose name cannot now be announced in view of the conditions existing in our country. Full announcement will be made hereafter, but the day will be made memorable and worthy of patronage.

Bishop John H. Vincent, the founder of the Chautauqua movement, will make the address on Recognition day, July 7th, when the class of the year graduates.

July 8th is College Day with a contest between representatives of leading colleges with the first prize $75 and the second $25.

Special rates will be furnished on the railroads. Admirable opportunities for tenting and camping in beautiful Woodland Park with ample boarding accommodations in the hotels and homes in the city of Lexington. The detailed illustrated program may be secured by addressing Chas. Scott, Business Manager, Lexington, Ky.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Sherburne.

A tobacco season badly needed at present.

A. B. Barbee and son John were in Mayville Saturday.

Mrs. Delphia Hedges sold to Oscar Ham a sorrel gelding for $135.

Born, on May 26th, to N. A. Tumbler and wife, a daughter, still-born.

Wood Graham and wife were the guests of friends and relatives of this place Thursday and Friday.

Jerry Eden caught two fish Thursday night that weighed 8 and 37 lbs. respectively. The largest one measured 3 ft. 7 in. in length.

J. C. Williams, the Mexican and Civil War veteran, died this morning of the 26th of May. He had for many years been a sufferer of that dread disease cancer, which caused his death at the age of three score and ten. Deceased leaves a wife and three daughters, who have the sympathy of the entire community in their affliction. One by one the old veterans with halting steps and dimmed eyes are dropping out of the ranks. One by one are marked absent at each roll-call. One by one, like the deceased, having lived noble Christian lives and borne their sufferings without a murmur have become part of the great host that stands on the right of the Master. One by one their names are enrolled in the Book of Life. Cheer up, bereaved ones. Your loss is his gain. No more will he suffer from worldly care and affliction, but dwell where joy and peace reign supreme.

East Fork of Flat Creek.

Your corps was at Ringo's Mill, Fleming Co., Friday and found Mr. Gilmore and three clerks busy.

Our school (the deficient month that Mr. Hull did not teach) opened here Tuesday with Butcher Anderson as teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Calvert, of Fleming county, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Risner and family Sunday.

Preaching at Okla Sunday evening by Rev. Geo. E. Boots and several baptized at the river. Let the good work go on.

Lots of tobacco set here Monday last. When R. Vanlandingham quit setting tobacco he killed two black snakes about seven feet long.

I said in last week's issue when a liar speaks the truth once in a year he is not believed. The above belonged to the item concerning the man Gillespie falling over the cliff in Menifee county and was not thrown at South Side. I believe every word "Clodhopper" writes. The typesetter just made a mistake where it should have been in my letter.

If we could get a season in this vicinity we could set all our tobacco ground with good large plants. A number of farmers are doing setting tobacco here and elsewhere if they don't get a season. I don't see what's to hinder an editor from being a good hand to set tobacco plants. They are good at setting type. What say you, Mr. Editor? Can you help us set tobacco the next season?

means in trying to produce an erroneous impression upon our neighbors. As a rule, few people are really deceived by such devices; but infinite harm is done to the characters and consciences of those who practice them. Everywhere are seen persons who, possessing ample means for a natural and wholesome life, throw away their opportunities of comfort and happiness and exist in a sort of haze of false pretenses, for no better object than the gratification of a vanity as purely animal as that which prompts the Central African savage to plaster his hair with mud and to smear his body with bullock's fat.

A Social Fallacy.

[By Lady Cook, nee Tennessee C. Claffin.] There are many social fallacies which have forages continued to live vigorously, and which die hard and slowly. Among them is that most pernicious one that trade is undignified and labor a reproach. No matter what moralists and philosophers have said as to the worth of work and the value of commerce, no matter what has been written by the poets or preached by the divines, the fashionable society shut its ears and its understanding to all, and decreed that, whatever their personal character or abilities, those who engaged in trade or labor should be excluded from its circles.

This opprobrious distinction between idleness and usefulness to the prejudice of the latter, or between one kind of usefulness and another, is not an indigenous sentiment, but was continental, and imported hither. It had its rise in an inflated military pride. Our practical forefathers honored trade, and by its encouragement prepared the way for England's greatness. And they regarded all classes of idlers, whether aristocrats or "sturdy vagabonds," with keen severity. Indeed, no one read Blackstone's Commentaries on the laws of England without coming to the conclusion that not our wealth, population, and power alone, but our liberties also, had their origin in trade. Trade and freedom marched hand in hand, acted and re-acted upon each other, and built up the world's greatest Empire.

The wisest monarchs of England, including Alfred and Elizabeth, have promoted the extension of trade by their example as well as by their laws. Elizabeth had a share in many speculations. During the Stuart and Tudor periods merchants were honored guests at court. If we except the purely feudal period, it was not until the commencement of the target? They are entombed in the urns and sepulchres of mortality! And yet let the name and dignity of De Vere stand so long as it pleases God.

Extravagance, gambling, racing, and betting, are the means by which old families are brought low. Idleness and profligacy extinguish them. It is just, then, that those who have risen by their industry, ability, and moral superiority, should take their places in the councils and honors of the country.

For labor restores, renews, and re-creates, and is therefore God-like. The raw material, neglected it may be for ages, is woven or hammered or otherwise manufactured into tools, beauty or utility, where the tolling millions provide for themselves and for the world. The trade, which produces the products of one part for those of another, or supplying the daily needs of the people, also thrives by rendering a service to others. He cheapens the necessities of life, and brings its luxuries within the reach of all. He opposes war and diffuses the bounties of peace. Surely both labor and trade are noble callings provided they be well and honestly followed.

When Klug Promp of Coomassie was told by the War Correspondent of the "Daily Telegraph" that he was neither a warrior nor a carrier, the captive monarch insisted that in that case he must be a great fetich maker, and implored the correspondent to write him out one. Eventually he wrote as much as he could remember of the lines beginning "Mary had a little lamb," and the King wears the words around his neck as apotem preventive against evil. Those amongst us who neither fight nor work have succeeded well as makers of fetich, manufacturers of social fallacies to be worn on the hearts of the people. One of these is that it is ordained by Providence that some should work and others not, and that the many must work for the few. We answer, "It is false and blasphemous. All should work, and work for each other." There is none but might do some good thing. And to that most despicable and much-to-be-pitied man—the selfish, idle man of means—we apply Carlyle's words on "The Landed": "Alas! is there no noble work for this man, too? Has he not thick-headed, ignorant bores; lazy, enslaved farmers; weedy lands? Lands that he not weary heavy-laden ploughers of land; immortal souls of men ploughing, ditching, day-drudging, bare of back, empty of stomach, high desperate of heart; and not peaceably to help them but he undr heaven?"

Not one-fourteenth of the peerages that had been created up to 1675 exist today, notwithstanding the Peerage of England is, as Disraeli said, "the finest in Europe." No greater tribute of praise was ever paid to it than by Rousseau—revolutionary and democrat that he was—where he says "Nouvelle Heloise." "If you know the English nobility you must be aware that it is the most enlightened, the best taught, the wisest, and the bravest in Europe. This being so, it is unnecessary to enquire if it be the most ancient, for, in speaking of what it is, no question arises of what it has been. The peers of England are certainly not the slaves of the prince, but his friends; not the tyrants of the people, but its chiefs; its guarantees of liberty, sustainers of their country, and supporters of the throne, they form an inviolable equilibrium between the people and the sovereign. Their first duty is to the nation, their second to him who governs it: it is not his will but his right that they consult: supreme administrators of the laws in the House of Lords, and sometimes law makers, they render justice equally to the people and the crown, and they allow no one to say 'God and my sword,' but only 'God and my right.'"

Were it not that law, politics, and trade are constantly recruiting the Peers with new blood they would dwindle into insignificance, for no family, plebeian, noble or royal, can escape the vicissitudes of time. As Lord Chief Justice, Sir Andrew Crewe, in his splendid charge, said of the De Vere's—"Time hath his revolutions; there must be a period and an end to all things temporal—FINIS REBUM—an end of names and dignities and whatsoever is TERRENE, and why not of De Vere? THURSDAY, JUNE 2, 1898.

Latest, May 31st.

The embarkation of troops at Tampa, Florida, has begun. It is believed they are bound for Santiago to make a combined land and sea attack on the fortifications and Cervera's squadron. About 15,000 will go, nearly all regulars.

The volunteers under the first call mustered in number 122,100. Kentucky, Iowa and Alabama are the only tardy States.

The 3d Ky. was to leave for Chickamauga Wednesday. The 1st will probably go to Washington City. Col. Colson is recruiting the 4th Regiment under the second call. The colored regiment idea was abandoned by Gov. Bradley.

War's Daily Progress.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 25TH.

Cervera's flying squadron is believed to be in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba with the armor-clad squadrons of Schley and Sampson guarding the narrow entrance. But it would be a hunter entering a cave after a bear for our side to go in the harbor over the mines and torpedoes and under the fire of the forts to attack Cervera. He may have to be starved out; it seems almost a hopeless task to smoke him out with gunpowder.

Lieut. Sobral, who has been particularly rabid towards this country and who was Spanish naval attaché at Washington and ordered out of the country when De Lome left, is one of the passengers on the captured steamer Panama. He was disguised and had been acting as spy, having in possession excellent drawings of the defenses of the city. He seems bound where the bad Spaniards go.

Kentucky's quota under the call for 75,000 is 2,045, or about two regiments.

The Havaneses are planting plenty of vegetables to eke out their scanty stores of food.

The Second Regiment of Kentucky Volunteers Infantry, containing 950 men and 60 commissioned officers, left today for Chickamauga Park encampment. The regimental officers are E. H. Gaither, Colonel; E. S. Whipple, Lieutenant Colonel; E. S. Johnson, Major; Allen and Wm. C. Owens, Majors of the 1st and 2nd Battalions respectively. The Captains are Company A (Covington), Robert M. Shearer; B (Cynthiana), Wm. S. Hardin; C (Winchester), Harry T. Strother; D (Lexington), Fred L. Egan; E (Frankfort), Julian Kersey; F (Lebanon), Wm. H. Sweeney; G (Newport), T. W. Woodard; H (Middleborough), Charles H. Price; I (Paris), Charles D. Wink; K (Williamstown), James K. Watkins; L (Lancaster), Samuel L. Duncan; M (Georgetown), George Green.

President McKinley today issued a call for 75,000 more soldiers for the volunteer army. It was rendered necessary by reason of the expected occupation of the Philippines and Porto Rico and the insignificance of the insurgent support in Cuba.

THURSDAY, MAY 26TH.

Schley has Cervera bottled up at Santiago, the cork in and wired down—unless Cervera has slipped away in the night without the scouts seeing him. It is not entirely credible that he would permit himself to be done that way. There are two sorts of opinions as to the vulnerability of Santiago. Navy Department officials are quoted to the effect that it would cause an unnecessary sacrifice of life and risk to the squadron to attempt to destroy the fortifications there and fight Cervera too. On the other hand, a naval officer who was with the St. Louis and Wampach when they cut the ocean cables there says he doesn't think the harbor strongly fortified, as they silenced a battery easily.

Again, for the twentieth time, Cuba is to be invaded next week.

On May 25th 2,500 soldiers left San Francisco for Manila on three transports, the Australia, Pekin and Sydney. Brig. Gen. Anderson in command of the troops, composing whom were four companies of regulars, and the balance volunteers from California and Oregon. They took a year's supplies, and also ammunition for Dewey. It will be a week before the next body of troops will follow them.

Lexington people gave the 2d Ky. a great send off when it left for Chickamauga. The Daughters of the American Revolution presented them a regimental flag, and the city presented a flag each to the Lebanon and Frankfort companies, which called themselves "Bradley Guards" in the State militia. Ten thousand, half of whom were women, collected at the railroad station to cheer the regiment, and each soldier was given a nice lunch.

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee's staff is notable for containing Major Russell B. Harrison, son of the ex-President; and Lieutenants Sartoris, Gen. Grant's grandson; Carbond, Miss Evangeline Cossio y Cisneros' affianced, and Gen. Lee's own son.

FRIDAY, MAY 27TH.

The army and navy are to move on Havana at once in the fullest available force. Sampson's squadron will protect the landing of 75,000 troops and the city will be assailed from land and sea.

Schley thinks he certainly has Cervera dead to rights in Santiago harbor. On his way there Schley landed 30,000 firearms for the insurgents near Cienfuegos. Another report says it was 30,000 rounds of ammunition instead of firearms.

The British steamer Europa with a cargo of 2,500 tons of sulphur from Licata, Italy, reports at Portland, Maine, being chased near the strait of Gibraltar by Spanish torpedo-boats. Sulphur is contraband as a constituent of gunpowder.

A Madrid dispatch to London says Spain yearns for an honorable peace. The Madrid Liberal writes: "The sovereignty, perhaps the independence, of the nation is hanging in the balance. Enemies menace it everywhere abroad and there is famine at home. * * * Industry, commerce and agriculture are dead. The flower of the Spanish youth is giving its life blood to carry on the war, and weakened mothers are nursing a new generation amidst this accumulation of evils. * * * The country may wait while the Government arranges its differences with party politics, but Dewey, Sampson, McKinley and Salisbury are not likely to wait."

To add to Spain's troubles, the Caroline Islands are reported to be all in revolt.

The enemy reports the cruiser Baltimore disabled by an explosion in Manila Bay.

The 2d Ky. Regiment at Chickamauga was assigned to the First Brigade of the Second Division of Major General Wade's command.

Major Gen. J. Wheeler has command of the 1st, 3d, 6th, 9th and 10th regiments, U. S. Cavalry division of the 3d Corps, commanded by Gen. Shafter. Major Gen. Fitzhugh Lee has command of the 7th Corps. The 7th Corps is divided as follows: Two divisions, four brigades and nine regiments—3d and 5th Ohio, 2d Georgia, 32d Michigan, 1st Florida, 2d Illinois, 1st North Carolina, 50th Iowa, 1st Wisconsin, all volunteer infantry, numbering 8,000 to 9,000. The 5th and 7th Corps are in Florida and will be among the first to go to Cuba.

The Washington authorities are divided in opinion as to whether Cervera's squadron is really in Santiago harbor.

Gen. Blanco holds American private citizens at twice the value of Spanish soldiers. He had to have Col. Cortijo, Dr. Julian and two privates, all captured on the Argonauta, in exchange for the two captured newspaper correspondents Chas. H. Thrall and Hayden Jones.

SUNDAY, MAY 29TH.

Opt. Callahan of the flagship Olympia, at Manila Bay, was sent home suffering from rupture.

Dewey's sailors will get about $800 prize money each for the great victory.

Real news from the war is very scarce. Rumors and lies are plentiful. The enemy tells anything that he thinks will help him, and some of our own news fakers like sin for the effect of the sensation.

The Government has bought three balloons to use as captive for observation and signaling at the invasion of Cuba.

The German press continues its hostile tone towards this nation. The Bismarck organs have always been the leaders in anti-American expression. German people have recently contributed $50,000,000 (about $5,000,000) contributed to Spain's war fund.

The President has commissioned M. C. Butler, of South Carolina, a Major General of Volunteers, and ex-Gov. Wm. C. Oates, of Alabama, Brigadier General.

MONDAY, MAY 30TH.

Capt. Sigbee, of the late Maine, now commanding the auxiliary cruiser St. Paul, steamed close enough to the harbor of Santiago Sunday morning to see two first-class armored cruisers and two torpedo-boat destroyers, which is proof that Schley has at least part of Cervera's squadron penned up there. Schley has the first-class battleships Iowa and Massachusetts, the second-class battleship Texas, the first-class armored cruiser Brooklyn, torpedo-boat Dupont, scout-boat Scorpion, gunboat Castine, auxiliary gunboat Eagle, and perhaps the second-rate cruisers New Orleans and Cincinnati and dynamite cruiser Vesuvius. Sampson is patrolling the north coast of Cuba with his large squadron, and Commodore Watson is blockading Havana with his detachment.

Schley having officially confirmed that Cervera is at Santiago, the invasion of Cuba, it is believed, will be made this week.

Admiral Dewey is fortifying Corregidor Island at the narrow entrance to Manila Bay and mining the channels against a superior attacking force.

The Washington correspondent of the London Telegraph reports by his paper that an alliance between the United States and Great Britain is under negotiation on this basis: Great Britain is to recognize the Monroe Doctrine and attempt to increase of territorial possessions in the Western Hemisphere; the United States is to build the Nicaragua canal and allow Great Britain to use it in any way; the United States is to retain any territory taken in the Spanish war, and Great Britain to stand by her if possession is threatened; the United States is to stand by Great Britain in the pending partition of China, and all British ports in the East are to be open under the most favored-nation clause; an arbitration treaty covering all disputed matters, except those involving the Monroe Doctrine and the Nicaragua canal, is to be made; the United States is to use the Welland canal in war time; in short, a general offensive and defensive alliance is to be made.

A negro at Lexington knocked a cavalry recruit from Barboursville senseless Sunday and the soldier's fellows were about to lynch the one they supposed did it, but Gov. Bradley caused them to desist.

The first-class swift protected cruiser Columbia collided with and sank the British steamer Foscolina in a dense fog eight miles from Fire Island light. The Columbia had a huge hole knocked in her. She saved all the people on the lost ship.

It is denied that the captured ship of the steamer Panama is Lieut. Sobral.

About 50,000 of the volunteers under the second call for 75,000 will be used to fill out the regiments to the full complement of 106 per company.

A third call for volunteers is likely to be made soon, as the regular army is not being recruited up to the 62,000 limit as rapidly as expected. Not more than 40,000 regulars will likely be enlisted, as there is a disinclination from some cause to enter the regular army.

The London Times has a report from trustworthy American sources that Cervera's squadron is in Central American waters and not at Santiago.

TEDDY ROOSEVELT's regiment of Rough Riders was so popular that it was over-enlisted without the company raised for it by Roger D. Williams, of Lexington, one of the leading spirits of the National Hunters' Association. Col. Roosevelt, as well as Williams, is much regretful that the Kentuckians can't get in. He thinks if the war lasts long there will yet be room for them. A thousand wild riders every one able and willing to bring down a man on average of every two shots will be something to give the enemy a panic.

A PORTION of the people are becoming intoxicated with thoughts of magnificent imperialism because of Dewey's victory. To enter upon a splendid career of annexation and colonization and still continue to make Federal office a reward for the spoilsman is to start the ship of state with full steam up head on to the rocks. No more certain course to an awful national wreck could be devised. Spain's downfall of empire is largely due to the fact that she rewarded her politicians who were pestering at home with the colonial spoils.

REPORT has it that Admiral Montojo, who stood up bravely in Manila Bay and fought Dewey till his squadron was annihilated, is to be court-martialed for cowardice and probably shot; also that the captain of the little Callao has been shot by order of a court-martial for surrendering without fighting.

Spain's which was a white flag came upon in Manila Bay unaware of war being declared. If true the Spanish naval officer is worse off than if he was between the devil and the deep blue sea.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY was refused indemnity by the United States for the killing of the twenty-three subjects of the Empire at Hazleton while they were resisting the officers of the law. The Emperor has been trying to array Europe on Spain's side in this war because the Queen Regent is his niece. He has a pretext now for a row and a fight on his own hook. He is credited with being about the wisest ruler on a throne after Queen Victoria. If so there will be no fight on his part against Uncle Sam.

The old Confeds generally recruited by taking any one that was willing to stand the racket regardless of physical imperfections, and the brave old Yanks do say that the Johnny Rebs put up just as nifty a fight as the most valiant mortal could wish. All of which goes to prove that the regulations for selecting a volunteer army now in vogue are not the perfection of military wisdom.

FRANCE and Germany are about to rear up on their hind legs because Hawaii permits the United States to enjoy favored privileges there during the war, according to a Washington dispatch. As it is none of their business it may be presumed that the dispatch was inspired in annexationist quarters.

FRANCE'S hostility is not so pronounced as of late. Whether it comes from policy or not, there are now more expressions of sympathy from France for this nation in the war than from any other country except England. Germany is trying to belittle the United States rather more than any other nation.

DENMARK is still anxious to sell this nation the West Indian Islands St. Thomas and St. Croix, and a recent dispatch from Copenhagen says a customer will be found in Europe if the United States doesn't buy. Between having to capture some islands and buy others Uncle Sam is liable to conceive a distaste for islands.

Some persistent liars, probably Poloy Bernabe's hirelings, have been sending reports of Spanish warships off New Foundland and Nova Scotia. Our Government has not been deceived by them, but they have kept the New England people in a state of trepidation.

The Carlisle Mercury is doubting its subscribers' local news pleasures by coming to them twice a week at the same old price. It's fine for the readers, but a little harder on the Mercury's force, and ought to be appreciated accordingly by its constituency.

"ARE we all mustered?" asked a volunteer officer last week at Lexington. And the mustering officer replied: "No, cayenne pepper is largely in evidence." Then the band played "We're sugar and spice and everything nice."

THE Emperor of Austria and the Queen Regent of Spain's mother are reported to have advised Christina to leave Spain to escape the threatened revolution, but she is determined to remain. Monarchism has fascinations that few are able to resist.

It is reported from Gibraltar that Krupp has just sent forty great guns to Spain billed through the custom-house on the route as "kitchen furniture." If true it is a gross violation of German neutrality.

THE boys are getting impatient. Politicians with Congressional aspirations should remember that the rural roster can't crow near so lustily in the journalistic barnyard without a medium of chicken feed in the way of announcement fees.

CONGRESSMAN JERRY SIMPSON has asked Gov. Leedy's permission to raise a regiment of Kansas volunteers. Jerry ought to be well instructed that soaped socks breed no blisters on a forced march.

EMPEROR WILLIAM of Germany has offended the German Jews by refusing to stand godfather by the customary proxy to a Madgeburg Jew's seventh son. Anything for a racket, is Bill's style.

"CERVERA's bottled up at Santiago de Cuba," said the dispatches last week, still the public was in doubt as to whether he did it with sherry or champagne.

LEITER is supposed to have made four and a half million dollars on his wheat corner. Light bread is now Leiter bread.

THIS war will develop its significance after it passes through the "June sweat," as we tobacco folks say.
